BACKGROUND---KASHMIR TALKS CONCLUDED

- I. End of Indo-Pak Prime Ministers' talks on Kashmir announced 18 May. Communiqué indicates no real progress made toward solution of problem.
 - A. Wording of communiqué meaningless, uninformative--"It was decided to continue these talks at a later stage, after full consideration has been given by both Governments to various points that had been discussed..."
 - B. Same sort of language used in past to announce failure reach agreement on major points.
- II. Subsidiary communiqué, issued 17 May, which deals with discussion of means avoiding border clashes (such as 7 May incident, when 12 Indians reported killed), suggests some progress on preventing future occurrences.
 - A. This is a minor problem, however, since such clashes have been occurring for years without arousing

II. India obviously outwaiting Pakistan, firm in belief Paks eventually will have to accept status quo.

A. Paks may eventually agree to partition

Kashmir along present cease-fire line, as desired by India.
